Your library deserves a digital front desk.

Stop answering the same questions. Start inspiring discovery.
One visual hub for every resource your students and teachers need.

> Ms. Bennet's students used to ask where to find things every single day. She built a Symbaloo board — catalog, databases, book trailers, research guides — all in one colorful page. Within a week, students stopped asking. Within a month, her Halloween Choiceboard had the whole school reading for fun.

WHAT CHANGES FOR YOUR LIBRARY

Less time answering questions. More time inspiring readers.

- One visual hub — catalog, databases, research guides, book trailers — organized in clickable tiles students actually use.
- Choiceboards that spark discovery — genre boards, seasonal reading, digital literacy games that make the library exciting.
- See what actually gets clicked — real usage data so you promote what works and retire what doesn't.
- Share & discover — publish boards to the Symbaloo Library. Find great boards from librarians nationwide.

LIBRARIANS LIKE YOU

Three libraries. Three transformations.

Elementary

One librarian created a Symbaloo as her “magic page” — reading tools, storytime videos, games. Students learned to find everything without asking. Teachers started linking it too.

VISUAL NAVIGATION

Middle School

A 6th grade librarian built subject-specific boards for every class. Students start research there now — not their inbox. Teachers embed the boards in their syllabi.

SUBJECT BOARDS

High School

One librarian built boards for every department — databases, citations, primary sources. The Research Launchpad became the school’s go-to starting point.

What you can build in minutes

- K-5 Reading Tools Board
  Storytime apps, leveled readers, phonics games — one colorful page for young learners.
- Research Launchpads
  Databases, citation tools, and search guides — one board per department.
- Digital Literacy Paths
  Gamified paths teaching source evaluation and responsible searching.
- Genre Discovery Boards
  Book trailers, author spotlights, curated lists — make browsing a digital adventure.
- Seasonal Choiceboards
  Halloween reads, summer challenges — themed collections students love.
- Symbaloo Library Publishing
  Share your best boards with librarians nationwide — and discover theirs.

“Symbaloo turned our library into the most visited page in the building. Students come to discover, not just to check out books.”

— School Librarian, K-8 District
